

Featured Artist: You!!

We are looking for SongCast artists to feature and promote. There is no cost to you! Who does that? We do! We want to promote you, your music, and get the word out about your latest release. You could get massive amounts of free promotion by becoming the next SongCast Featured Artist Of The Month. Get your mug and an article about your music right here on the front page of our monthly newsletter. Get featured for an entire month on our social media. Get your music into the ears of new fans. Get links to your downloads and streams in front of people that will listen. Email us and tell us about yourself. Send us a few paragraphs about your music, your vision, your goals. Include your artist name and links to stream your music. Email promotions@songcastmusic.com

SongCast Sonic Symposium: Blues

Here at SongCast, having the blues is a good thing! This month, we showcase some incredible blues, including Australia's Blue Shaddy, The United Kingdom's Fred Chapellier, Detroit's Bugs Beddow Band, Clearwater's The Roy Sites Band, and more! Indie blues from around the world, the best of the best, jammed into a one hour radio program you will stream again and again. All Sonic Symposium shows are commercial free and free to stream. PUT YOUR MUSIC IN THE SPOTLIGHT!

Spotlight allows you to co-produce a custom radio show featuring only your music! Three tiers are available, from a simple two-song show highlighting your best pair of songs, to a mammoth production featuring an interview with you and showcasing six of your best tracks! Your show will stream on our SongCast Radio App, on songcast.com and you receive an MP3 copy of the show. Many extras are included. More information is available at this link: <https://www.songcastmusic.com/get-promotion>

Indie Artist Radio FB

In addition to our regular Facebook page, we also have an Indie Artist Radio FB page, featuring daily posts promoting artists distributed by SongCast. A description of these artists and links to stream and download their music are provided. This FB page also provides a wide variety of links to music related articles and showcases various promotional features available from SongCast.

Check Out The Indie Music Revolution

We have been publishing weekly Spotify playlists of new indie music for about three years. It has now morphed into The "Indie Music Revolution." You will still get new indie music from a wide variety of genres, including hip hop, alternative, electronic, reggae, rock, country, dance, pop, and more. We will also include music from artists that have been with us for many years.

SOCIALIZE WITH SONGCAST!

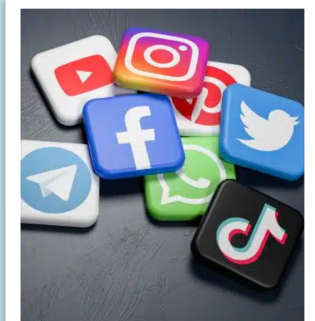

Our social media offers many things to the indie artist. We offer links to current music related stories that can benefit the aspiring musician. We offer information on our services, profiles of our artists, links to recurring features such as new music playlists, podcasts, artist interviews, and more.
